Feed for Senior Horses

There is no exact age that a horse is considered a senior, but generally horses begin to face nutritional challenges associated with aging at 15 years of age. Cool Command Senior horse feed is for horses facing challenges, such as weight gain and maintenance, damaged or worn teeth, and joint discomfort with activity.

Utilizing a high-fat and high-fiber formula, Cool Command Senior horse feed is a complete feed to help maintain ideal body condition and feed intake. The multiform, corn-free feed features a fat nugget for extra calories and is ideal for supporting healthy weight gain and maintaining healthy weight in hard keepers. Horses with damaged or worn teeth benefit from our easy-to-chew formula, with high-fiber to accommodate horses for whom chewing long-stem hay is no longer possible, allowing it to be fed without additional forage.

Joint health can contribute to a horse's overall happiness. Inflammation is the number one culprit when it comes to joint discomfort. Because inflammation knows no age, supplementing the equine diet with proven ingredients such as glucosamine, chondroitin sulfate and MSM, that support health inflammatory responses can not only support keeping joints healthy, but help support future joint health too.

Formulated to support total health for senior horses, Cool Command Senior horse feed offers the quality nutrition they need. The science is advanced, but our philosophy is simple – good health starts from within.
