WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT YOUR VACCINES

Realize that all vaccines have to be shipped at some time. They can be safely shipped to you both in the winter and summer. Vaccines are shipped at the first of the week to prevent them from being in transit over a weekend. In the winter we may at times ship parcel post rather than UPS so they will be protected indoors during shipping. When you receive your order in the summer the ice packs will be melted but will have done their job protecting your biologicals. You should keep your biologicals refrigerated until you use them. Before you order, make sure the shipping methods and quantities of vaccines you choose are correct and afford the level of protection you believe you need. To shorten your "in transit" time, your biologicals can be shipped next day or 2nd day air for an additional charge. If you should have any questions, give us a call.

CLEAN AND STERILIZE YOUR INSTRUMENTS PROPERLY

Cleaning:

Immediately after use, flush the entire system with hot, clean water to remove all residue. Do this by first adjusting dosage setting to the maximum of the instrument, inserting the draw-off into the hot water, then pumping briskly until all residue is removed...about 1 minute. Rinse by briskly pumping clean, hot water through the system. Pump dry and remove tubing. Then pump a few drops of Syringe Lubricant to properly lubricate valves and O Rings. This will improve operation and greatly extend the life of internal parts. Not Recommended: Mineral Oil, Glycerine, or Alchohol.

Sterilizing:

Boiling the Clean Instrument for twenty minutes is the generally accepted method of sterilizing these instruments.

For better fly control, get with the program.

Improved fly control starts with the Y-TEX® Insecticide Tag Rotation Program.

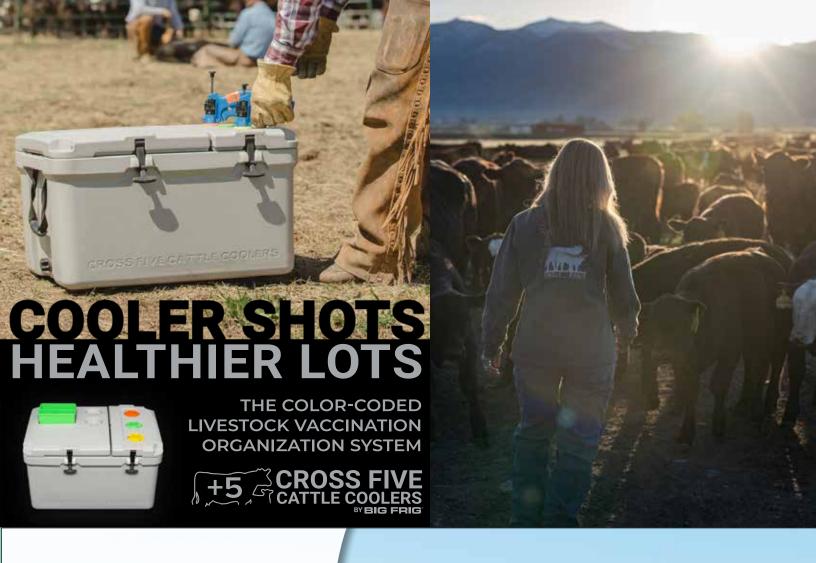

Insecticide resistance is a growing threat to cattle producers everywhere. What worked last year may be totally ineffective this year, which is why it makes sense to adopt the Y-TEX® Insecticide Tag Rotation Program.

Only Y-TEX® offers fly tags in three different chemical classes, allowing you to rotate from one class to another to protect your cattle as well as the long-term viability of current active ingredients. In fact, university research shows that rotating tags is one of the best ways to forestall resistance in horn flies, face flies and other damaging pests.

To discover how the Y-TEX® Insecticide Tag Rotation Program can help you stop resistance dead in its tracks, see your livestock products supplier or come visit us at www.y-tex.com today.

CLEAN AND STERILIZE YOUR INSTRUMENTS PROPERLY

Cleaning

Immediately after use, flush the entire system with hot, clean water to remove all residue. Do this by first adjusting dosage setting to the maximum of the instrument, inserting the draw-off into the hot water, then pumping briskly until all residue is removed...about 1 minute. Rinse by briskly pumping clean, hot water through the system. Pump dry and remove tubing. Then pump a few drops of Syringe Lubricant to properly lubricate valves and O'Rings. This will improve operation and greatly extend the life of internal parts. Not Recommended: Mineral Oil, Glycerine, or Alchohol.

Sterilizing

Boiling the Clean Instrument for twenty minutes is the generally accepted method of sterilizing these instruments.

You can improve the efficiency of your haying program by lowering these excessive losses and end up with more feed. Culbac Forage Liquid is one management tool that offers considerable benefits for your haying program. Culbac Forage Liquid gives you more flexibility by allowing hay to be baled with a wider moisture range. This advantage alone can be a significant factor in

CULBAC FORAGE SILAGE TREATMENT

CULBAC/FORAGE "THE SWEET SMELL OF SUCCESS"

Success is measured in many ways when it comes to forage additives:

- ☐ One 25 lb. bag of Culbac/Forage (CULSIL25), will treat 125 tons of corn silage and return 5,125 lbs. more
- ☐ Sweet smell means an absence of spoilage and increased palatability.
- ☐ Controlled fermentation temperature indicates less run-off and increased nutrient content.
- ☐ Culbac/Forage is a patented lactobacillus fermentation product The number one fermentation product in forage treatment.
- ☐ Culbac maximizes efficiency in haylage and silage production, saving at least one-half of the normal proteins and nutrients
- ☐ Culbac/Forage provides more total pounds of protein and nutrients available to your animals.

GULBAG APPLICATION CHART

SWATHER APPLICATION: (Preferred)

Apply at 1 quart per ton of fresh forage. Mix 2 gallons Culbac to 23 gallons of water.

Calculate

W x MPH x YIELD = GPH For 32 oz./ton

W= Swather Width (ft.) Yield= Tons/Acre/Cutting MPH= Swather Speed GPH= Gallons Per Hour

Example 1

14' swather traveling at 4 MPH, cutting 2.5 tons per acre.

 $14 \times 4 \times 2.5 = 4.24 \text{ GPH}$ (Find pressure in Table 1) From tale 1 you can use 2 nozzles at 45 psi or 3 nozzles at 25 psi.

Example 2

12' swather traveling at 4 MPH, cutting 1.5 tons per acre.

 $\frac{12 \times 4 \times 1.5}{33}$ = 2.18 GPH (Find pressure in Table 1)

BALER APPLICATION:

Example 1

Mixing 2 gallons of Culbac to 23 gallons of water = 100 guarts.

Bales weigh 1500 lbs. = 3/4 quart because 1500 lb. bale is 3/4 the weight of 2,000 lbs. (ton).

Say you roll out 10 bales per hour, that means 6 minutes to make a bale. So nozzles should fill a quart bottle 3/4 full in 6 minutes.

Example 2

Mixing 1 gallon of Culbac to 24 gallons of water = 100 guarts

2 quarts to a ton

Bales weigh 1500 lbs. =1 1/2 quarts because 1500 lb. bale is 3/4 the weight of 2,000 lbs. (ton). Need double strength because 2 quarts to a ton, so 3/4 x 2 =1 1/2 quarts. Say you roll out 15 bales per hour, that means 4 minutes to make a bale. So nozzles should fill 2 quarts 1 1/2 full in 4 minutes.

THE SMARTY ROPING DUMMY

The Smarty is the only training machine of its kind, developed by 4x World Champion Allen Bach.

He was determined to build a machine with a realistic corner, to make you ride in perfect position every time. Dallying is just like live cattle in the sense that the legs come together when you dally and stretch up to six feet between the tow bar and legs. The legs are shaped and modeled to feel the same as a live steer. It's not just a heeling machine, with the realistic head design and size this is also a headers go to machine. The turn loose horns make it easy to rope with just two people. BRSMARTY......$3,150.00

THE SHORTY ROPING DUMMY

Shorty is constructed of durable low density polyethylene. Therefore, it will handle tons of abuse in hot and cold weather. The horn base is close to the average steer for a realistic feeling head loop. The spring loaded legs pull back and together as you dally for that pullback feel.

"Prices in this mailer subject to change without notice! Not responsible for errors in printing or copy." PIPES

Allen built the Pipes to help himself demonstrate techniques while at roping clinics. Since then, he perfected the ground heeling dummy known as the Pipes by Smarty. To this day, Allen implements using the Pipes in his daily practice and at roping clinics. The Pipes is made of a black powder coated metal with realistic legs just like the Smarty and Smarty Xtreme. It is easy to load in your truck or trailer, assemble and dissemble, and adjust the height. SRPIPES......$495.00

Twin side by side alleyways make a large 5 of entrance enticing for cattle to enter and then transitions the cattle into a single alley then into the chute. A double alleyway system is the most efficient set up for loading out cattle or to keep flow of cattle consistent for the chute.

BULLDOG PORTABLE CORRAL with HEADGATE CPPBDCP40.....$19,750.00

The Bulldog Portable Corrals are capable of holding up to 60 head of cattle. This corral offers a smaller, easy to fold out, and more affordable portable corral that can be used on its own or in tandem with a portable working system or corral to add more capacity and pen options. Headgate options make this corral more versatile than the competition. The Bulldog Portable Corral uses a hydraulic lift system to raise and lower the corral eliminating the need for you to lift panels, wind cables, or crank jacks to put the system in place.

LINN PORTABLE GORRAL SYSTEM

One person can set up the Linn Portable Corral in about 10 minutes ready to contain 85-90 Cow/Calf Pairs without lifting a panel. The self contained system easily pulls down the highway at the speed limit and fits through any gate your pickup will. Works on extremely uneven terrain. Over 20 different corral configurations are possible. Wheels on each panel with electric over hydraulic jack eliminates lifting and saves time. Includes frame for sorting.

SILENGER HYDRAULIG SQUEEZE CHUTES

SILENCER'S patented head and taildoors both open fully-top to bottom- for the industry's most advantageous cattle flow in and out of the chute. When the animal enters the chute, SILENCER'S full opening taildoor reduces hesitation. Then the combination of SILENCER'S full-opening headdoors and the pre-set pressure relief valve permits head doors to close only as far as needed for 350 lb. animals on up to 2500 lb. animals with little or no chute adjustment. SILENCER'S headdoor maintains equal pressure on the animal-top to bottom-minimizing animal stress and injury. HEAVY DUTY or COMMERCIAL PRO Chutes available by Special Order.

Match Momma's Milk

Ewe's milk is naturally high in casein the same protein found in Premier's skim milk formula. Caseins are slowly absorbed after ingestion, whereas whey protein is quickly absorbed. That's why cheaper, whey-based milk formulas often result in bloating and digestion problems.

Mineral Premixes

The GOLD FORMULA difference...

Premier's premixes contain high levels of zinc, iodine and other essential trace minerals for optimum flock health to promote healthier hooves, animal growth and reproduction! Add Sheep/Goat ADE Premix to either salt or your own grind and mix for diets low in fresh forage.
